This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. RULES AND REGULATIONS

OF THE

PUBLIC LIBRARY

OF THE

CITY OF DETROIT.

This Library being established under a provision of law as a free public Library, it is the purpose of the Board of Education, in prescribing the following rules, to avoid all restrictions not essential to the proper custody, control and preservation of the books. These rules, therefore, will be carefully enforced and followed by those having charge of the Library, as well as those participating in its use.

RULE 1. The Library shall be under the immediate control and supervision of the Superintendent of the Library, who shall be at liberty to employ one or more assistants, subject to the approval of the Board.

RULE 2. The following persons shall be entitled to borrow books from the Library for home use, upon the conditions prescribed in the next rule, viz:

All inhabitants of the city of Detroit above the age of eighteen years.

All such persons under the age of eighteen years as are members of the Public High School, in good standing, and such as shall obtain permission in writing from the Committee on Library.

RULE 3. Before any person shall be allowed to take books from the Library, he shall, with his surety, sign an agreement, the form of which is attached to these rules as an Appendix.

RULE 4. All inhabitants of Detroit, of respectable character, orderly conduct and condition, shall have free access to the Library for consultation, during all regular hours; but persons under the age of eighteen years shall bring certificates from their parents or guardians, in a form to be furnished by the Superintendent, setting forth that they are persons who ought to enjoy the privileges of the Library, and that such parents or guardians will be responsible for their conduct while there.

RULE 5. The Library shall be open for consultation from nine o'clock, A. M., until two o'clock, P. M., and for the delivery of books from four to eight o'clock, P. M., each day except Sunday, and at such other hours as the Committee on Library may hereafter direct.

RULE. 6. No books shall be taken from the shelves, in any part of the Library, by any person not employed in the service of the Library.

RULE 7. No person shall have for home use more than one volume on any one day; and no book shall be retained, by the person borrowing it, more than fourteen days: Provided, always, That any book may be borrowed twice, by the same person, but not more than twice, until it shall have been returned to the Library, and shall have remained there at least one full Library day.

RULE 8. No person who has borrowed a book from the Library shall lend it to one not a member of the same household.

RULE 9. To protect the Library against loss, and to secure to all a just and equitable share in its benefits, any person detaining an imperial octavo, or larger volume, longer than the regulations permit, shall be fined three cents for each day of detention, and two cents a day for the detention of a smaller volume; the Superintendent being charged with the collection of these and all other dues to the Library.

RULE 10. Any book detained two weeks beyond the time limited by these regulations, shall be sent for by the Superintendent, and twenty cents shall be paid by the person who has so detained it, to defray the expense of sending for it.

RULE 11. Encyclopædias, dictionaries, and other books needed for reference in the Library-building; books not easily to be replaced, in consequence of their rarity or value; books expressly given for reference only; and, books deemed by the Committee on Library to be unsuited for general circulation, shall be used only in the building: Provided, nevertheless, That in order to allow the widest practicable use of the Library, consistent with its preservation and greatest efficiency, a person desiring to borrow any book whatever (except such books as may have been given on condition that they should not be taken from the Library) and stating the reason for it in writing to the Committee, shall, if the reasons are deemed sufficient, be permitted to borrow it on proper conditions.

RULE 12. All injuries to books beyond a reasonable wear, and all losses, shall be made good, to the satisfaction of the Superintendent, by the person liable; every book detained above three months being held to be lost. The turning down of leaves shall also exclude the person liable for injuries from further use of the Library, until he obtains a written permit from the Chairman of the Library Committee.

RULE 13. All books must be returned to the Library at such time, before the annual examination, as may be required by the Committee on Library, under penalty of a fine of one dollar for each volume detained; but seasonable notice of the time of returning them shall be given in the newspapers that advertise for the city.

RULE 14. Any stranger or person visiting the city for the purpose of literary or scientific investigations, may, on being properly recommended, temporarily receive the benefit of the books within the Library building, by signing the Strangers' book.

RULE 15. Any person abusing the privileges of the Library, by unbecoming conduct, by the violation of any of the regulations, by intentional defacement of a book by writing in it, or in any other way, shall be immediately reported to the Committee on Library, who shall, if they think the case requires it, exclude such person, for a time or permanently, from the Library, according to the nature and degree of the delinquency or default. But, in case of any gross offence, the Superintendent shall act summarily in the matter, and cause the offender to be at once excluded from the rooms, reporting the case to the Committee as soon as possible, in writing, for their final decision.
